MANAGER LETTON SHOWS WHAT'S WHAT IN DINNERS

Newspaper Guests, Departing, Sing "He's the Style, All the While"

A score of newspaper men gathered in the Georgia pine room of the Hotel Letton as the guests of Manager J. L. Letton Friday evening.

Five minutes after the first course had been served, the lights "faded" and the guests were left in darkness. Mr. Letton, who was in the room, behind a high table covered with vines and redolent with flowers, looked on and counted the minutes.

Mr. Letton's fame as an "all-around" man was not unexpected. He had been a "big one" but they were not prepared to be ushered into the dining hall of Fairland.

There was one detail of the menu that was overlooked to no small detriment. Everything was there from a French dish that nobody could name, but which everyone enjoyed, to the ultimate in cuisine. It was this that was in danger.

At the evening proceeding those lights and the guests of the hotel, who had been in the dining hall, were not to be seen.

When the dinner was over, Mr. Letton made a gracious speech in which he expressed his appreciation of the cooperation of the newspapers. He had heard the Atlanta press in the city hall and he had seen the "all-around" man in the dining hall of Fairland.

The occasion came to a close as the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" were played. Mr. Letton, who had been a "big one" but they were not prepared to be ushered into the dining hall of Fairland.

GRANT REQUISITION FOR GEORGIA "WALLINGFORD" A. D. Oliver, alias L. C. Harding, the south Georgia, alleged "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," who has just completed a term in the state penitentiary for bigamy, must go back to Mississippi, where he is charged with being an escaped convict.

Governor Clayton Friday afternoon received the requisition of the governor of Mississippi for Oliver. Through his attorney Oliver fought the requisition on the ground that it was made out for L. C. Harding and that he was A. D. Oliver. He claimed mistaken identity. A number of witnesses identified him as Harding, however.

Oliver was sent to prison from De Kalb county, where he had a notorious financial career of several months, in which he is said to have made about $10,000 out of his various schemes. During his short but dazzling career he carried out a young girl from one of the best families at Clinch, Ga. Later it developed that he had a living wife in another state and he was sent to the penitentiary for bigamy.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB NOT IN POLITICS

Officers Write Letter Correcting Possible Impression It Has Given Public

Editor Atlanta Journal: We wish most respectfully to correct what may be an erroneous impression gained from the articles in the press of the city concerning the South Side Improvement Club.

This club is solely and absolutely what its name implies—an improvement club, organized and maintained to secure through organization and co-operation some of the many needed improvements for our section. We have been hard at work for many months, just at present we are confining all of our efforts on the regrading, widening and repaving of South Ferry Street, from Georgia Avenue to Ridge Avenue. We have this work well in hand, and expect to see it accomplished before the end of next year.

The articles in the press concerning our meeting of Thursday night, while true so far as some of the actual occurrences were concerned, were in many respects untrue. There will be no cause some to class us as a political club. But we are far from it.

Our mayor had been invited to this meeting in order to express him of our purpose and to enlist his co-operation in the work we have in hand. When in the course of his talk, and after he had pledged us his hearty support in the matter, he strayed from the subject and began his usual characteristic comments on the failure of council to co-operate with him, and to give his opinion of the proposed new charter, of course, being our guest, we let him talk. The injection of these matters into our club by the mayor was purely gratuitous on his part.

The club has not taken, and does not expect to take any part as a club in these matters. Each member can and will vote and act as he pleases on these issues. We give them no place in our club discussions. We devote our time, our thought and our discussions in trying to devise and secure needed improvements.

We have no intention of calling a meeting now at any time for the discussion of these outside issues, nor do we intend to call a meeting at any time. We are too busy on the improvement of South Ferry Street and we are glad to know that we now have the hearty co-operation of the mayor, leading city officials and the county board.

Yours for improvements, President South Side Improvement Club.

Atlanta Spooners, Barred From State Capitol, Are Offered Use of City Parks

Judge Broyles Advises Young Folk to Cut the Billing and Cooling on Capitol Grounds, Whereupon J. O. Cochran, of Park Board, Offers Freedom From Arrest to All Spooners Who Use the City Parks

City Recorder Nash R. Broyles' decision Friday afternoon in the case of Miss Doris Weisman and Gus Meyers, a victory for spooners.

The young people were charged with the offense of "sponging" on the grounds of the state capitol Thursday night. The charges were preferred by Plain Clothesmen Clark and Wickard of the "vice squad."

Judge Broyles promptly dismissed the cases against the couple after he had heard the evidence in the case. They had violated no law, he said. He advised them, however, that the police of the front porch was a whole lot better place for love-making than the capitol grounds.

"The case has created much comment," J. O. Cochran, of the park board, for instance expressed indignation over the arrest.

Following the trial Friday afternoon he extended an invitation to all couples to come to any of the city parks to do their spooning. He declared he would guarantee them peace and seclusion from spying plain clothes policemen if they conducted themselves properly.

"I, C. Lattimer, keeper of public buildings and grounds, who is directly responsible for the care of the state capitol and the surrounding parks, and Saturday morning that he has no objection to love-making on the capitol grounds," he said. "I believe that the front porch of the capitol is a better place for the sacred business of spooning than the open air. But he also recognized and voiced the fact that there are a lot of young women and young men of the city who cannot board a front porch or a parlor either."

"What about girls who live in board houses or have small brothers?" he asked. "I don't want anybody to think I am a marked defendant."

ATLANTA CLUB LEASES SPACIOUS NEW ROOMS

Local Organization Has Acquired Entire Top Floor of Forsyth Building

The entire eighth or top floor of the Forsyth building has been leased by the Atlanta club for a period of three years. Arrangements for the lease were completed at a special meeting of the board of governors, Friday evening, and the club will move into its new quarters on October 1.

Ever since the completion of the Forsyth building three years ago the club has had its home on the fifth floor of the building, occupying about two-thirds of the space on that floor. It has grown rapidly in membership and the necessity for more space to accommodate the club members as well as to provide for many desired new features prompted the board to make the new lease.

The club will have about 17,000 square feet of floor space in addition to the largest and most complete roof garden in the city. A system of shower baths will be installed. There will be additional reading and billiard rooms, the main cafe will be enlarged, a ladies' dining room and several additional ladies' parlors will be provided.

Under the new arrangement the club will have a complete ball room, a large garden is equipped with a large stage and will seat 1,500 persons. A campaign will be inaugurated immediately to increase the membership to 1,500. Dr. George Brown, the well known specialist, is president of the club. It was largely through his efforts that it was organized three years ago, and the principle credit for the club's unusual success is due him.

Mr. Dobbs is vice president; H. L. Cardozo, secretary; C. E. Orchard, superintendent; Eugene Roberts, assistant superintendent; and P. M. Jack, steward. The members of the board of governors are: Dr. Brown, Mr. Dobbs, Colonel W. T. Spaulding, Dr. A. Ashby, Pope C. Driver, A. L. Brooks and H. S. Irwin.

COACH CUNNINGHAM'S WIFE KILLED BY SHOCK

Was Turning on Light in Bathroom at Athens Home

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 6.—While turning on a light in the bath room of her residence on Cloverhurst avenue Thursday night, Mrs. W. A. Cunningham was instantly killed by an electric shock. Mr. Cunningham, who was at home, heard her fall and at once ran to her rescue. He tried to turn on the same light and the force of the heavy voltage shocked him severely. Having on the same night saved his life, Mrs. Cunningham was the wife of Coach W. A. Cunningham, of the University of Georgia. The remains will be carried to Hopkinsville.

Anderson Wins Over C. Evans; Travers Plays

Veteran Will Meet Newcomer in the Championship Field in Final Match Over Garden City Course—Travers Is Held as Favorite by Golfers

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 6.—John Anderson, Boston country teacher, may be the next national amateur golf champion when the crown will rest on the head of Jerome D. Travers, who has retired for two years. This contest was the result of a week's competition play at the Garden City club which today reached its final round.

Anderson and Travers met today after having played way through yesterday's match when the Massachusetts champion was held by the redoubtable "Chick" Evans of Chicago and his friend and rival Fred Herd.

Anderson never has enjoyed championship honors while Travers is a champion of national tournaments. But his man's steadiness all through the week and his unexpected defeat of Evans yesterday gave him a large place in today's match. Anderson shows the brilliant play which Travers has displayed many a time.

With the westerner holding a lead of 1 up from the morning round, Anderson and Evans played the first three holes in the afternoon try. Anderson ran away a twenty-foot putt in winning the fourth hole in 4 to 5. They were all square from the fifth hole on.

Anderson took the lead again on the sixth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the seventh hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the eighth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the ninth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the tenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the eleventh hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the twelfth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the thirteenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the fourteenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the fifteenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the sixteenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the seventeenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the eighteenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the nineteenth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the twentieth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the twenty-first hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the twenty-second hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the twenty-third hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the twenty-fourth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the twenty-fifth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the twenty-sixth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the twenty-seventh hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the twenty-eighth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the twenty-ninth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the thirtieth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the thirty-first hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the thirty-second hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the thirty-third hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the thirty-fourth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the thirty-fifth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the thirty-sixth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the thirty-seventh hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the thirty-eighth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the thirty-ninth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the fortieth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the forty-first hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the forty-second hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the forty-third hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the forty-fourth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Anderson took the lead again on the forty-fifth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Evans took the lead again on the forty-sixth hole when he sank a 20-foot putt. Anderson took the lead again on the forty-seventh hole when he sank a 20-foot putt.

Maybe Mobile Will Get Rain And Can't Play

Threatening Weather in Mobile—If Either of the Pel Gables Are Postponed and Crackers Win, There Will Be a Tie for the 1913 Pennant

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 6.—Both the Mobile and the New Orleans teams arrived here this morning. Mobile from Atlanta and New Orleans from Chattanooga. These two teams will play the season with a two-game series, and with Mobile and Atlanta tied in the race for the Southern league championship they will be fighting all the time.

Manager Frank has not yet forgotten the three postponed games, and is doing his best to make up for the three losses in question. He will use Wilson in the first game and Fodor in the second, with Tantz behind the bat.

On the other hand, tied with Atlanta, and with the Crackers going at the gate, they are, Mobile must win two from the Pel to take the race. Campbell is scheduled to work in the first game with Schmidt behind the bat.

The weather is very threatening, and the outlook for a game this afternoon is not particularly bright. If this game is rained out, there is a chance of a header on Sunday. If this double bill is not played, there is a great chance for a pennant tie in the Southern league, the first in its history.
